ABOUT NORTH PARK UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1891 by the Evangelical Covenant Church, North Park is located on Chicago’s north side, with satellite campuses in Grayslake, Waukegan, and Arlington Heights. A values-driven institution, North Park offers a distinctive learning community informed by three institutional values; to be a community that is:

Christian
We nurture faith, balancing commitment, and freedom.

City-centered
We engage Chicago as a dynamic place of learning and service.

Intercultural
We embrace and value all people, celebrate the global cultural tapestry, and support the reconciling mandate of the Christian gospel.

The campus community fondly refers to these values as the “3 distinctives” and looks to them as guideposts for constructing a learning environment. With a deep tradition in the liberal arts and Christian faith, North Park welcomes students from varying faith traditions to serve and learn from the dynamic community around us.

The University serves an increasingly diverse student population that is at least 25% Hispanic and reflects the University’s commitment to expanding educational opportunities and improving attainment for students of diverse backgrounds, is an expression of the intercultural element of the University’s three distinctives. Also, in February 2020, the North Park University Board of Trustees unanimously voiced its endorsement for North Park Next – the exciting, three-phase collaborative institutional planning enterprise to create an inspiring future and build on North Park’s distinctives to emerge as the compelling model for Christian higher education in 21st Century America.

Progress on North Park Next can be followed at: https://www.northpark.edu/north-park-next/.

MISSION
The mission of North Park University, as the University of the Evangelical Covenant Church, is to prepare students for lives of significance and service through education in the liberal arts, professional studies, and theology.

VISION
Building on our core institutional identity—Christian, city-centered, intercultural—our vision is to create a university of uncommon character and enduring excellence, where faith, learning, and service meet.
LOCATION
North Park University is located in the Albany Park neighborhood of Chicago, one of the most ethnically diverse zip codes in the United States. It is nine miles from downtown Chicago, located between Cicero Avenue on the west and the North Shore Channel on the east, the city limits and Devon Avenue on the north, and the North Branch of the Chicago River on the south.

The university is located near I-90, I-94, and Lake Shore Drive, making it a convenient driving distance for many areas of the city and nearby suburbs. Public transportation is also highly convenient; the CTA Brown Line train station is within walking distance (0.6 mi.) and the CTA 92 bus route stops at campus (Foster and Spaulding).

Albany Park includes a broad range of housing options, from rental apartments to single family homes. Many residents in the immediate vicinity of the University have lived in the neighborhood for many years. Nearby Lincoln Square offers additional shops and restaurants, and the North Park Village Nature Center boasts a 46-acre nature preserve and walking trails.

The North Park campus has often been referred to as an oasis in the heart of the city – a place where students from urban, rural, and suburban backgrounds alike can call home. And all of this within the major metropolitan backdrop of Chicago: one of the world’s largest and most diversified economies, renowned for its museums and music, and voted best large city in the U.S. for four years in a row by Condé Nast Traveler.

GOVERNANCE
North Park University is governed by a Board of Trustees that includes both members elected by the Evangelical Covenant Church (ECC) and others appointed by the Board itself; all of whom are approved by the ECC. The work of the Board is organized according to committees on Academics, Advancement, Finance, Marketing and Communications, the Seminary, Student Recruitment and Retention and Trustees.

Serve as President at North Park, she has brought to life a new era of leadership, engagement, and vision, with her strong conviction that in the sum of the University’s three distinctives – Christian, city-centered and intercultural – North Park finds its unique value, its competitive advantage, and its opportunity to emerge as the compelling model for Christian higher education in 21st Century America.

President Surridge brings a wealth of leadership experiences in higher education. Before becoming President, in a career at North Park that spanned more than 20 years, she served as vice president for advancement, oversaw undergraduate enrollment, and coached women’s basketball. As advancement VP, Surridge led Campaign North Park, the most ambitious fundraising campaign in the School’s history. It raised $63 million in financial commitments, including $41 million for the construction of the Nancy and G. Timothy Johnson Center for Science and Community Life. The cutting-edge edifice opened in 2014.

Before arriving at North Park, Surridge was associate director of planned and major gifts at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois; director of residence life and student activities at Concordia University in Mequon, Wisconsin; and dean of students at Marian College (now Marian University) in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. At Concordia, she earned a master’s degree in student personnel administration. As an undergraduate at Northwestern, Surridge earned a bachelor’s degree in speech communication.

Led by President Surridge, the President’s Cabinet is a dynamic, engaged, and collaborative strategic group. In addition to the Provost, the Cabinet includes the Vice President for Student Engagement, Vice President for Enrollment Management and Marketing, Vice President for Finance and Administration and CFO, Chief of Staff, and Vice President for Church Relations and Dean of the Seminary.
The University serves an increasingly diverse population of students from the city of Chicago, the nation, and the world. There is no racial or ethnic majority in the undergraduate population, as no racial or ethnic category is represented above 50%. Of traditional undergraduates, 51.9% identify as students of color. The religious beliefs of students represent a wide variety of faith backgrounds, including the Evangelical Covenant Church, other Protestant denominations, Catholicism, Orthodox Christianity, Islam, and Judaism. Undergraduate students are 58% female, 65% commuter, and 80% from the state of Illinois. The undergraduate enrollment at NPU is 1739.

Also contributing to North Park’s student body are 116 adult degree completion students, 559 graduate students, and 389 enrolled in the Seminary. These student populations are equally diverse, with 59% female students and 46% white students.

There is a vibrant campus life. In addition to an active student government, there are approximately 30 registered student organizations, and there is a transparent process for starting a new student organization. Existing student organizations fall under five categories: academic and education clubs, many of which are connected to academic majors; club sports that participate in intramural and extramural competitions; cultural clubs, which focus on advocacy, celebrating diverse backgrounds, and providing education on various social identities; social clubs that gather around general areas of interest but commit to a cause or project; and media and periodical publications, which are student-run publications. There are no Greek social organizations at North Park.

Athletics are an integral part of North Park University. The Vikings compete at the NCAA Division III level as members of the prestigious College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) in 17 varsity sports. One third of undergraduate students are student-athletes and are expected to work for academic and athletic success. Coaches recruit students who want a college education and encourage their athletes to perform to their best levels in the classroom. Through the University’s Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, student-athletes participate in the deliberation of policies and welfare issues. The athletics programs enjoy the support of students, faculty, staff, alumni, and other friends of the University. The cumulative GPA for our student-athletes is 3.18.
The academic program at North Park is delivered through six colleges and schools: College of Arts and Sciences; School of Business & Nonprofit Management; School of Education; School of Nursing & Health Sciences; School of Music, Art and Theatre; and School of Professional Studies. The University is also home to the North Park Theological Seminary, the denominational Seminary of the Evangelical Covenant Church.

Effective for the Fall 2022 Academic Year, the undergraduate experience at North Park will include 30 majors and programs in the liberal arts and sciences, including pre-professional options like law, medicine, and art therapy, all in a world-class city and a diverse faith community.

The College of Arts and Sciences houses two divisions. The Division of Humanities and Social Sciences offers degree programs in communication arts, English, modern languages, history, philosophy, politics and government, and sociology/criminal justice. The Division of Sciences offers degree programs in biology, chemistry, engineering, mathematics, and psychology.

The School of Business & Nonprofit Management offers Bachelor’s degrees in advertising, business and nonprofit management, with specializations in areas such as accounting, finance, marketing, and sport management, among others. The School also offers five master’s degrees and 16 graduate certificates. All graduate degree programs and some certificates offer the option of attending completely online. Finally, the Axelson Center for Nonprofit Management curates professional development opportunities, services, and resources for individuals and organizations in the nonprofit sector.

The School of Education offers bachelor’s degrees and credentialing for teaching in elementary, middle grades, senior high or K-12 school programs; a post-bachelor’s teacher licensure program; and five approval or endorsement options in areas such as bilingual, English as a Second Language; and special education. Additionally, the School offers four master’s degrees in education, educational leadership, literacy, language, culture, and teaching.

The School of Nursing & Health Sciences offers programs in both areas. In nursing, students can pursue a bachelor’s in nursing (BSN); master’s degrees in leadership and management and advanced practice nursing that lead to specializations in adult-gerontology or family practice; and two post-master’s certificates. Health Sciences offers three bachelor’s degrees in exercise science, health sciences, and physical education; and a master’s degree in athletic training. Students also have the option of pursuing a 3+2 program in athletic training.

The School of Music, Art, and Theatre offers programs and degrees in each of these areas. The Music Department offers four bachelor’s degrees, in music, music education, ; two master’s degrees in collaborative piano/vocal coaching and vocal performance; a music minor; and two certificates in arts management and music for social change and human values. The Art Department offers bachelor’s degrees with two concentration options in fine arts and graphic design; a pre-professional program in art therapy; and an arts management certificate. The Theatre Department includes both the minor and a production company developed around a distinctive storefront model that creates productions, at least one produced off-campus at a professional theatre space in Chicago. This active learning enables cross-training for students to develop practical skills that production members need to be successful.

The School of Professional Studies offers bachelor’s degree completion and certificate programs online, on-campus in Chicago or Grayslake, or in a combination of online and face-to-face courses. Prior Learning Assessment also enables students to get credit for what occurred as a result of an experience outside a traditional academic environment.

The North Park Theological Seminary (NPTS) offers specialized graduate certificates and graduate degrees. NPTS also offers graduate degrees through their School of Restorative Arts (SRA), a unique program housed within the Illinois Department of Corrections facilities at Stateville Correctional Center and Logan Correctional Center. This is the only program where free and incarcerated students can study and learn together in the same classroom. NPTS also offers continuing education opportunities for pastors, including administering the Covenant Orientation program and foundational courses certificate, both are necessary for credentialing in the Evangelical Covenant Church. Additional continuing education opportunities include many kinds of fieldwork, workshops and seminars, and other opportunities for a variety of audiences.

Each of the academic units makes a unique contribution to the North Park mission, but they also collaborate through Catalyst 606, an innovative program that allows the campus community to engage both experiential learning and community outreach. Operating with both curricular and co-curricular components, Catalyst has become a signature feature of the undergraduate experience. No classes are held on Wednesday afternoons so that students can be sent into the local community to engage with Chicago as their classroom and Chicagoans as their teachers. This distinctive program enables North Park students to engage with different Chicago neighborhoods (each with a zip code that begins with 606, thus inspiring the name of the program).
